

????????????????????

It's not a crime to refuse to answer questions but doing so might make the cops more suspicious. You can't be arrested merely for refusing to identify yourself on the street.

Ask if you are under arrest. If you are, you have a right to know why.

Police can 'pat-down' your clothes if they suspect a concealed weapon. Don't physically resist, but make clear that you don't consent to any further search.

Don't bad mouth a cop or run away, even if whatever's going on is unreasonable.
